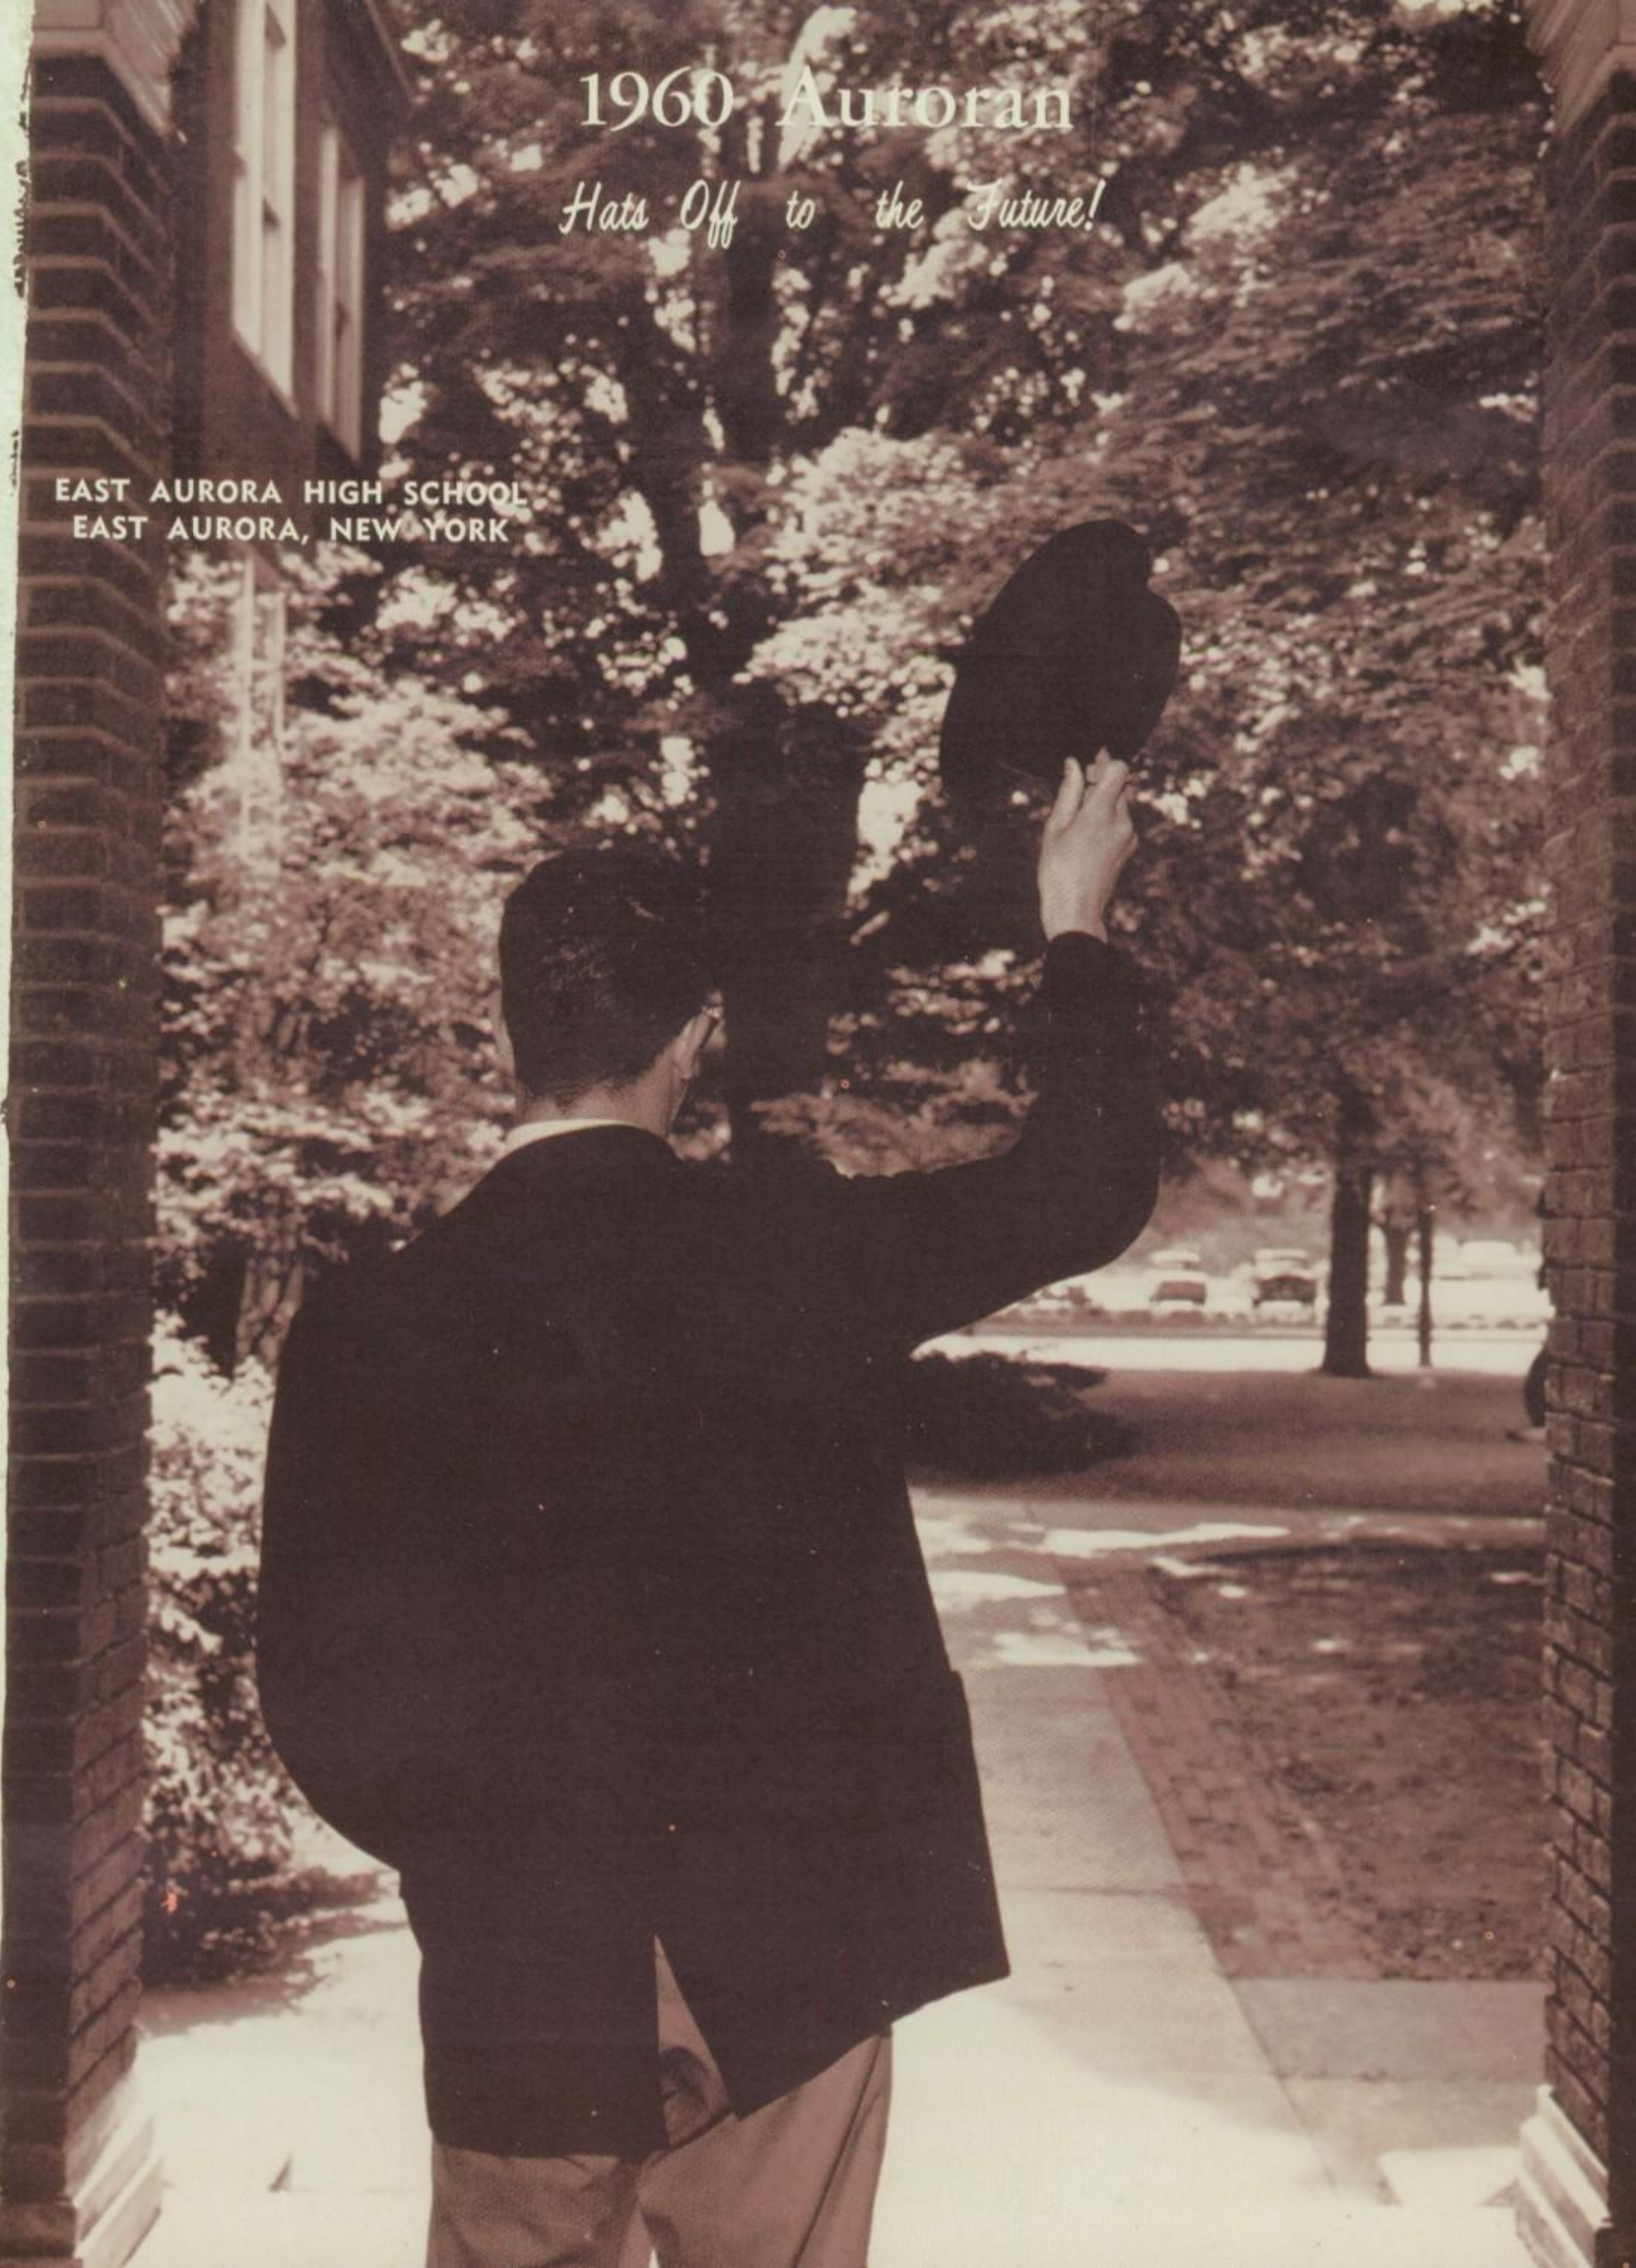
Hats Off to the Future!

EAST AURORA HIGH SCHOOL
EAST AURORA, NEW YORK



Foreword

The time has finally come for us to cast aside the hats of youth, and to seek out the hats of our future professions in life. Some of us may assume the cap of the doctor, others the helmet of the soldier, and still others, the hats of business and service. The choice is a difficult one and must be carefully made. We must call upon past knowledge and past experience to guide us into the future. Much of that knowledge and experience has been gained in our past years at East Aurora High School.

It is our sincere hope that by building a useful, successful, and happy future for ourselves, we may in some way repay the debt to those who have guided and instructed us.

Dedication

It is with deep and sincere appreciation that the Class of 1960 dedicates this Auroran to Mr. James O. Birdsall. A sincere person, a source of endless energy, and our class advisor for the past three years, Mr. Birdsall has given freely of his time to help us with our problems and projects. For this, we are indeed grateful. No person has been so great a help, or so much a part of the Class of 1960, as Mr. Birdsall.

MR. STIKER

May success come to all of you to the extent that you will obtain the greatest satisfaction and happiness from life.

I wish you all of the best in this the best of all possible worlds.

To the Class of 1960:

All honor for a task carried to completion!

You have passed through many phases in your experiences in school in reaching this level. During your early years you eagerly welcomed each new experience. After a time, "peer approval" helped determine those things you sought. Then you began making tentative decisions for the days ahead rather than only for today. During all of this time someone was at your elbow to coach or advise.

Now you will step into a place where you make the chief decision with only that help which you seek. Your way ahead is in your own hands. The degree to which you have changed from a role of dependence on others to self reliant intelligent behavior is a major measure of what school has done for you.

In a high school graduate we expect competence in certain knowledge and skills. We expect attitudes and behavior patterns worthy of free citizens. This role we, and the entire community, are confident you will assume. It will lead you to a rich and successful life.

God bless you. You go forth carrying our best wishes and highest hope.

Administration

Great personalities and events have often been identified or associated with a hat—the theme of the 1960 Auroran: the helmets of Greece and Rome with history, the bejeweled crowns of kings and queens with the Old World, the tall silk of Lincoln with civil liberties, Churchill's battered bowler with World War II and Einstein's well-worn felt with modern science. In no case has the hat been the maker of the wearer, but always the wearer the maker of the hat.

At graduation, the mortar-board will symbolize your academic achievement. Congratulations and very best wishes for the success of each member of the Class of 1960.

Thomas C. Moore
Assistant Superintendent

High School is nearly over. Commencement is at hand. We salute you and say 'Hats off to the Class of 1960'. We cannot rest on past accomplishments. We must plan and work for the future. To win for yourself success, it takes more than the gesture of 'hats off', it must include the rolling up of your sleeves and a determination to succeed. My wish for you is that you resolve to make of your life - the best.

Frances A. Rosen
Director of Elementary Education

Dear Seniors,

When you read this message, you will be on the last lap of your high school experience. I wonder how many of you remember accurately the anxiety you had when you entered East Aurora High for the first time, most of you as seventh graders. I am sure that most of you realize now that most of those anxieties were uncalled for.

I am sure that, if you have prepared yourselves conscientiously, you will face the same results in life. My main task is to help educate you for that unknown. I hope that you feel your preparation has been adequate.

Needless to say my best wishes for success go with each member of the Class of '60.

Exchange Students

David Russell
Australia

To the Class of 1960:

My year here in East Aurora has been one I could never forget. The senior students have been wonderful to work and play with during my stay. I only hope I can get a chance to see you all again and try to thank you for all you have done for me. The experiences I have gained will remain with me for the rest of my life.

I wish to take this chance to express my regret to Miss Stanbro and Mr. McNeil for any inconvenience I might have caused them and give an extra special thanks to the class for putting up with me for the year. If any of you ever get half a chance to come to Australia, look me up and you can be sure of a mighty fine welcome. It has been great knowing you all, and I wish everyone all the luck in the world in his future life.

Sincerely yours,
David Russell

Hello kids,

Well after I had suffered through a twelve day trip, I arrived here (at night) and I can't say E.A. impressed me too much, but the next day, when I made my first trip around, it really looked nice to me, only the schoolbuilding . . . (looked like a schoolbuilding, even by daylight). And then, when I finally got in there (I lost my way) it wasn't too bad and you kids helped me to find my way again. I'm sorry, that I didn't get to know all of you, but the school is so big, that I didn't have the chance.

But getting to know you has been wonderful, and I'm sure I'll never forget my year in E. A. (even if schools in the U.S.A. are like schools). If any one of you ever gets to come to Germany, please tell me and you can be sure of a warm welcome.

So long and best of luck to all of you,

Freia von Kracker

". . . Who has his finger in the dike, now that you are in the United States . . .?" During my visit to East Aurora High School I was asked this question a thousand times. This "farewell address" seems to be a good opportunity to answer the question. Well, my brother prevents Holland this year from being overflown by the salt water, but . . . next year, having returned to my native country, I'll have to take over this hard job again! Therefore, dear friends from E.A.H.S., please do not forget me when I'm standing there for hours and hours, getting tired, being lonesome and cold in the blowing storms. Why not write to your Dutch friend once in a while ? ? Or, even better, why not come over to visit him? ? ! Everybody is welcome anytime! My address is: 9 Reinier Pauwlaan, Amstelveen, Holland. Otherwise, I'll see you all when I'm back in the United States, in this magnificent country with its wonderful people. My "farewell" will not be forever; it will be a "See you later" to all of you, who were such good friends this year. The exchange students who are going to visit East Aurora High School after me are lucky to attend the most wonderful high school in America! !

Class History

Thirteen years ago, the Class of 1960 had its beginning. We entered kindergarten, wide-eyed and expectant, and were introduced to the world of education. We began simply, by learning to tie our sneakers and print our names with our fat crayons. A large part of our time was spent building boats and trains from our large wooden blocks, and nap time was something which we would not miss until a few years later.

When we reached first grade, we were introduced to the three R's in earnest. We read of the thrilling adventures of Dick and Jane while they waited for Father to return home from work. We struggled mightily, trying to add apples and oranges and thought that nothing could be more difficult than arithmetic.

In second grade some of us went to the Baker Memorial Church, where temporary classrooms had been set up. We all looked forward to our daily walk to Main Street School for lunch, and our daily stop at Thomas' for bubble gum. Who could forget our plays which we presented with so much pride? Winnie the Pooh, "The Billy Goats Gruff", and our little stories of tooth brushes and teeth seemed to us the height of the dramatic art.

Third grade again brought us all back to Main Street. We all felt very grown up this year, because we were allowed to take care of ourselves in the cafeteria, and no longer were dependent upon our hostesses. This was also the year everybody deemed it fashionable to roller skate to school; skinned knees and bruised elbows were seen everywhere.

The fad in our fourth year of elementary school was yoyos. The popular class members were the ones who could spin a yoyo most proficiently. This year brought with it the splitting of our ranks. Some of our classmates went to the new school, South Side Elementary. With the passing of a very short length of time, a rivalry grew up between the two schools.

In fifth grade, this rivalry reached great proportions in the track meet which was held at Hamlin Park. Main Street thoroughly defeated South Side.

However, in the sixth grade, "the South Siders" had their revenge by defeating "the Main Street Kids" in the sixth grade basketball game. Later that year, we resolved our differences at a dance held at Main Street. Here, we renewed old friendships and began to plan for the following year. At Moving Up Day in June, we had a preview of what that year was to be like.

In the fall of 1954, the class of 1960 was again re-united. We entered the halls of E.A.H.S. as seventh graders, and our pride, as well as our confusion, knew no bounds. We were delighted with homework, a feeling which soon vanished, and we were fascinated by the changing of classes. It was a wonder that the class didn't suffer an epidemic of lock-jaw and stiff necks from gazing open-mouthed at the seniors. Burt Howell served as our president, and under the guidance of Mrs. Henry, we progressed through this initiative year unscathed.

At the beginning of eighth grade, Burt Howell was again elected president, and Mr. Bove became our advisor. A closed swimming party and dance was held, and the most popular entertainment turned out to be Indian Wrestling. This was also the year that some of us participated in the Variety Show, and won second prize for our rendition of "The Mortgage on the Farm." The social highlight of our eighth grade year was the presentation of the "Sweetheart Swing" to our class by the seniors.

Ninth grade brought with it the title of "Freshmen." Martha Wolf was elected to serve as our president, assisted by Burt Howell as vice-president, Kathie Jeffe as secretary, Garry Billington as treasurer, and Mr. Ruhl as advisor. Our biggest project was the presentation of the "Sweetheart Swing." We spent all day and most of our money decorating the gym. However, it was worth the time and expense, because the gym had never looked so beautiful. Gay Kitson and Joe Adams reigned as queen and king, with Sally Krum and Howie Weathers as attendants.

We entered into Sophomore year with an unlimited supply of enthusiasm. We held a record hop in September with Guy King as the main attraction. In December we sponsored "Winter Holiday" which became an annual dance. Steve Jordan and Nancy Kealing were elected king and queen. On February 15, we again presented the "Sweetheart Swing." Dave Schnurr and Bobette Rindell reigned over the dance. Many of us participated in the choir's presentation of the Messiah at Christmas and Manhattan Tower in the spring. The Variety Show lured some of our members into it; indeed, it seemed that wherever something was going on, a member of class of 1960 was to be found. We also ran into more homework this year. Plane Geometry's circles and triangles confused us mightily, and the multitude of dates in world history left our heads in a constant whirl. However, we got rid of any frustrations in Biology lab, where we gleefully dissected frogs, grasshoppers, and daffodils.

We were led through this happy and successful year by Martha Wolf as president, assisted by Garry Billington, vice-president; secretary, Bobette Rindell; and treasurer, Gay Kitson. Mr. Birdsall became our advisor, much to our benefit and his confusion. There must have been times when he thought that the only reason we had him as advisor was to carry coat racks. Some of the executive board members will never forget the picnic which he had for them at the end of the year. The food, mineral water, and sliding glass doors will long remain in their memories.

Our Junior Year brought with it an avalanche of activities. Dave Schnurr served as president, with Dick Davis his vice-president; Gay Kitson, secretary; and Martha Wolf, treasurer. Mr. Birdsall again consented to be our advisor, and was joined in the huge undertaking by Mrs. Hurd. We held the "Foreign Affair" that fall in order to acquaint everyone with our exchange students. "Sadie Hawkins" was the next dance, where Mike Dwyer and Sue Ballard were elected Li'l Abner and Daisy Mae. "Winter Holiday" was again presented in December, with Bill North and Martha Wolf the reigning couple. The "Sweetheart Swing" held on Valentine's Day, saw Tim Gill and Carol Drane as king and queen. In March came our greatest undertaking, The Taming of the Shrew, our Junior play. Attics all over East Aurora were thoroughly searched for such props as broken lutes, silver goblets, and wooden bowls which would not break. The wigs worn by the cast were objects of constant jokes. The party held at Bill North's after the last performance gave the cast a chance to recall many hilarious events. Thanks to the direction of Miss Harp, the valuable assistance of our advisors, and the help of Mrs. Houser and Mr. Asbury, the play was a huge success. We brought this year to a close with the Junior Prom, "Heaven On Earth." Bob Tarman and Carol Duffus reigned amid the silver stars and white doves which decorated the firehall. Steve Jordan and Carole Kirsch, and Bill Johnson and Gretchen Kline served as their attendants. Many of us probably still have some of Mr. Leland's purple sheets left, and some individuals will carry the "scars" of chemistry for the rest of their life. The noise and confusion of Junior Homeroom in 316 will long remain one of Mr. Birdsall's least fond memories. However, we all somehow managed to survive that hectic year, much to our amazement.

In the fall of 1959, we returned to E.A.H.S. for the last time. We took our seats in the auditorium, realizing yet not quite believing, that we had at last reached our Senior year. Mr. Birdsall and Mrs. Kuster became our advisors, while Dick Davis served as president, Garry Billington as vice-president, with Bobette Rindell, secretary, and Cecilia Babcock, treasurer. Our first undertaking was a rally at Hamlin Park before the first football game. From all appearances, it was a noisy success. The magazine sale in October was our biggest money-raising project, and for many mornings, the auditorium resembled a bank, as people turned in their subscriptions and money. The yearbook was well under way by the time senior pictures were taken. The "Sweetheart Swing" was given in February, with Darryl Manley and Garry Billington reigning as queen and king. The Class of 1961 was given the honor of presenting this dance through their remaining school years. As we approach the end of our senior year, and the end of our life at E.A.H.S., we all look back on the past with mixed feelings. To be sure, we are all anxious to take our next big step into life, whatever it may be. The future beckons us, and we are all ready to rush toward it, but, our high school years will remain with us. The noisy, funfilled times which we had together may fade in our memories as the years pass, but they will never be completely forgotten.

Junior Play

History was made by our class, when for the first time in our school, a junior class presented a Shakespearean play. The play was The Taming of the Shrew, by William Shakespeare, and was directed by Miss Harp. The cast of twenty-five was headed by Sally Purdy as Katharina, the Shrew, and Bill Conable as Petruchio, who tamed her. We will never forget the fun we had learning to speak the Shakespearean language, and wearing Shakespearean costumes.

King Bob Tarman and Queen Carol Duffus with their attendants; Bill Johnson, Gretchen Kline, Carole Kirsch and Steve Jordan.

"Heaven On Earth", our star studded Junior Prom was an event which will long be remembered by all those who attended. Especially fond memories will be had by our King and Queen, Bob Tarman and Carol Duffus, and by the members of their court, Carole Kirsch, Steve Jordan, Gretchen Kline and Bill Johnson. The glittering stars, the huge golden moon, and the white clouds all helped to lend a heavenly atmosphere to our Prom. The evening was climaxed by a breakfast held at the Roycroft Inn after the dance.

Senior National Honor Society

At the beginning of the year, the Senior National Honor Society, under the direction of Miss Boldt, had a membership of twenty-seven. The Class of '60 is proud to have such a large representation from its class. All members have worked to uphold the virtues of scholarship, character, leadership and service. A party was held during Christmas vacation. Induction of new members was held in May.

The officers this year were: Bruce Potter, President; Richard Smith, Vice-President; Gary Miller, Secretary; Darryl Manley, Treasurer.

One of the main highlights of the Junior National Honor Society's year was the annual installation of new members on March 3. Those inducted into this group were selected on the basis of their scholarship, citizenship, and service. Another project of the group was that of explaining the qualifications of the Junior National Honor Society to the students in junior high school. Their activities drew to a close with the annual picnic.

Mrs. Keller was the advisor of the group. This year's officers included David Beach, President; Jerry Grandey, Vice-President; Patricia Kenmore, Secretary; Nicholas Thines, Treasurer.

The East Aurora Science and Mathematics Club was composed of seventy-five members in grades seven through twelve.

In the fall, officers were elected for the year. They were: William Conable, President; Bob Aubrecht, Vice-President; Sally Purdy, Treasurer; Donna Whitney, Secretary; Mary Ann Gallick, Assistant Secretary; and Steven Middlebrook, Program Chairman.

The purpose of the club was to broaden the interests of its members in the fields of science and mathematics. The program of the year included interesting addresses on nature, electronics, and other special branches of science.

Club faculty advisor was Saverio Martina.

Key Club

The Key Club of East Aurora, sponsored by the East Aurora Chapter of the Kiwanis, has completed its third successful year under the advisory of Mr. Gallup. The Key Club consisted of thirty members. The officers were: Bob Tarman, President; Garry Billington, Secretary; and Don Wagner, Treasurer.

The main project of the year was to help secure band uniforms.

The Business Department is always buzzing with activity. Many of the students contributing to this are the ambitious student stenographers. These girls are assigned to a teacher, and, through the course of the year, dictation, typing, and mimeographing are done. With Mrs. Parker as their advisor, the students gain helpful secretarial experience.

Library Club

This year the Library Club had a very active year under the able supervision of Miss Phelps. The student librarians cared for the 10,000 volume library and aided class notes in many ways.

Every Wednesday morning, the twenty-five members met in the library to discuss their problems with officers: Kathy Spahn, President; Dennis McCarthy, Vice-President; Charlotte Doeright, Secretary; and Jacqui Rowland, Treasurer.

In December and January, the club sponsored the candy sales at the basketball games, and in May, the group met at the Roycroft Inn for dinner.

The Library Club is not a social club, but a service club for all students and faculty who use it.

This year the Junior Red Cross advisor was Mrs. Ethel Henry. Under her direction, the group collected money for the Red Cross, and in December, packed baskets of food for the needy in East Aurora. Members of the Junior Red Cross also helped at the blood bank. The officers this year were: Patricia Kenmore, President; Bobette Rindell, Vice-President; Douglas Sweet, Secretary; and Nancy Nieman, Treasurer.

Seventh Grade Willinkers

The year 1959-60 has been a busy one for the forty Seventh Grade Willinkers with Mr. Scott as advisor.

The fifth edition of the booklet, All Around the Town of Aurora, was published in cooperation with the Chamber of Commerce. Also, work was done on research in local history and models for the Hubbard Memorial Museum. Trips were made to the Buffalo District Rally, Cooperstown, and the Yorker State Convention. This year's officers were: Sara Burgard, President; Paul Vance, Vice-President; John Mead, Secretary; Gordon Conable, Treasurer; and Holly Thompson, Assistant Treasurer.

This year's Eighth Grade Willinker's primary project was research on the local history of East Aurora. They held one party and attended the Yorker Convention in Buffalo.

The officers were: Tracy Suor, President; Stephen Middlebrook, Vice-President; Pat Hepler, Secretary; Nancy Harbison, Treasurer; and Mrs. Schultz, Advisor.

Garcians

The Garcians attended the annual convention in Buffalo and the district jamboree in Orchard Park. The group also went to Philadelphia during the Easter Vacation.

During the year, the members participated enthusiastically in their historical projects, from which they gained valuable information concerning the history of East Aurora.

David Laney presided as State Yorker President this year. The officers of the Garcians were: William North, President; Cecilia Babcock, Vice-President; Evelyn Kitson, Secretary; Linda Leland, Treasurer.

Debate Club

Under the leadership of Mr. Leland, the Debate Club has completed another successful year.

Visitors were invited to several special meetings to hear outside speakers, including representatives of labor, labor-mediation, management of the steel industry, and a panel of all our foreign exchange students.

Members of the club had the privilege of representing India at the annual Mock U. N. Assembly. Four persons also participated on a panel on the radio broadcast "Youth Forum."

This year's officers included: Susan Horrocks, President; Mark Seeber, Vice-President; Sally Purdy, Secretary-Treasurer.

Sound Unit and Electrical Crew

Kneeling: Dale Long, Bruce Long, Dennis O'Grady, Bob Smith, Bob Peterson. Standing: Scott Carnes, Dewayne Scott, Bruce Bosworth, Charles Smith, John Dona.

The East Aurora High School Sound Unit and Electrical Crew is a new organization in this school System. The general purpose of the organization is to have enough qualified and experienced students to operate sound and lighting equipment for dances and other programs. The unit participated in the "Sadie Hawkins Dance" and the annual Christmas program.

This year's director was Bruce Bosworth, and the advisor was Mr. Burdick of the Audio-Visual Department.

The duty of the Projection Club is to supply audio and visual equipment for class work and civic use.

The students serve one year as apprentice projectionists, learning how to operate equipment correctly. In following years, these members perform many useful functions.

At present, this department has an excellent library of films, filmstrips, slides, records, and tapes.

Under the excellent leadership of Mr. Thomas Burdick, this department has become one of the best in New York State.

With only two returning lettermen, Pete Moog and Mike Juratovic, the Blue Devils were a rather unexperienced team. The record does not justify the ability of the players, who proved they had the potential by handily defeating league-leading Clarence at mid-season.

Junior Varsity Basketball Team

The swimming team this season has set a record that will be hard to beat. Not to the surprise of their coaches, Mr. Fisher and Mr. Palmer, the boys have obtained an eight-won, two-lost record. At press time, with two meets remaining, along with the E.C.I.C. Conference Championships and the Sectionals, the team was in the highest of spirits. Congratulations are in order for the boys of both the Varsity and Junior Varsity teams.

SIMMONS

Alma Mater

Alma Mater, East Aurora
We'll always love thy name.
Though fleeting years may come and go
We will always sing thy fame.
We'll ne'er forget our high school days,
Our friendships firm and true.
Aurora loved by every heart
We pledge ourselves to you.
